Mrs. Jackson, Sorry to bother you on the weekend. James has not given any sign of bringing Dalilah home tomorrow. She is still in Montanna and not in route to Missouri. To mine and Dalilah's knowledge there is not a plane ticket bought for her return. At what point can I step in and bring Dalilah home? There is not a set time in our parenting plan about when she is to be home. So I assume anytime after midnight I have the right to go get Dalilah. Thank you in advance for your help. Angela

Are you sure Monday and not Sunday? It states she is to be back the day before school starts. She starts school on Monday.

Mrs. Jackson,
James finally called saying he has a flight for Dalilah but is refusing to give me the information to confirm the flight. They said she was coming in from Minneapolis. If something would take place I would have no way of knowing. Is there anything I can do? It's not a safe situation for Dalilah if I don't know where my child is or when she is expected to be in town without a way to check her flight. I would appreciate if you could help me in this matter.
Thank you,

Angela
