Venus,

I am just appalled by what is rapidly coming to light. You have never cared about the children that you pretend to represent in the courtroom. You have done everything you can to take my daughter from her stable home, and to send her to her to live with her abuser. From actively ignoring my daughter's pleas for help, to lying and advocating for what is the ultimate worst interest of my child. Why would Children's Hospital immediately make a child abuse hotline call about James, while you, her Guardian Ad Litem, sat back and did nothing. That was old news to you. You failed completely in your duty to protect Dalilah, and instead recommended my daughter go live with her Father, that Dalilah repeatedly said is engaging in an ongoing pattern of sexual and physical abuse. You betrayed the child that you were sworn to protect, by essentially calling her a liar, and giving absolutely NO weight to her reports of abuse, or to her feelings, which Dalilah has concisely and honestly expressed. It truly seems as though you have chosen to depart dramatically from conventional wisdom, and frankly, from common sense, when you decided to ignore conversations with a child whom you are charged with protecting, whereby the child attempted, multiple times, to communicate the fact that they were in imminent danger of being sexually/physically assaulted. What could possess you to come to the conclusion that it is EVER okay to deliver a child into the hands of ANY adult with whom there is ANY possibility of sexual abuse? This seems like an unbelievably basic principle when it comes to advocating for children.

When a child is wrapped up in a case in Family Court, and a Guardian Ad Litem such as yourself is called into action, common sense would make you listen to the child on issues such as abuse, and certainly take a child known to be honest seriously when they report to you several times, up to and including in open Family Court, that she is being sexually molested by her Father...Go to message
